

MR. GAËL BODÉNÈS

Gaël Bodénès graduated in 1991 from ENSIETA (French Navy High School of Naval Engineering) as a naval engineer. He also holds an Executive MBA degree of HEC Paris (Hautes Etudes Commerciales), 2007.

He began his career for the French Navy (DGA) as a naval engineer in the Newbuilding design department, then joined the sales department of the DCN in Brest (France). In 1998, he joined International Shipbrokers Barry Rogliano Salles as senior offshore shipbroker.

In September 2002, Gaël Bodénès joined BOURBON as Marketing and Business Development Manager for the Offshore Division, supervising the business management of the international fleet. In line with the growth of the business, he contributes to the shaping of the Offshore Division.

In September 2005, he was appointed Deputy CEO of Bourbon Offshore, before becoming Executive Vice President of the Offshore Division in 2010, in charge of Business Management.

In January 2011, Gaël Bodénès was appointed Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer of BOURBON. He became Chief Executive Officer in September 2017, with the responsibility of the company management under the executive Chairmanship of Jacques de Chateauvieux.

On June 28 2019, he is appointed as Chief Executive Officer by BOURBON Corporation's Board which decide to reunite the functions of Chairman of the Board of Directors and CEO. Gaël Bodénès is therefore able to focus on managing the company and pursuing the transformation initiated by the group to make the most out of the already perceptible recovery.